STATE PURCHASE OF CEMENT GETS HOUSE APPROVAL

While Rep. Burns, Dem. Starts Move To Get Economy Action

BULLETIN

Springfield, Ill., May 9—(AP)—The Sinnott bill to permit the state to buy cement on the open market, without receiving bids, was passed by the House, 118 to 0, with no debate.

Springfield, Ill., May 9—(AP)—Protesting against the Senate's failure to act on his economy bills, Rep. James T. Burns, Kankakee Democrat, today threw obstacles in front of the Graham plan to force Chicagoans to pay 75 per cent of their taxes before filing objections.

After lengthy discussion, the tax bill passed, 105 to 11, as an emergency measure. It now goes to Governor Horner.

Burns demanded that the tax bill be read in full when it came before the House for a vote on finality.

The reading took 20 minutes and brought a storm of protest against the delay.

To Stand On Rights

Burns said he was standing on his constitutional rights and announced that he would insist that every Senate bill be read in full before the House. Normal procedure is to waive the rules and read only the titles of the bills.

More than a score of measures sponsored by Burns in an effort to achieve economy by reducing salaries and eliminating positions have been held up in the Senate for several weeks.

Today the Kankakee Democrat sought to force the Senate to act by delaying measures sponsored by the dominant Democratic majority in the upper House.

The Graham bill, sponsored by Rep. B. S. Adamowski, Chicago Democrat, who attacked Burns for causing undue delay.

A companion measure to the Skarla bill for receiverships for tax strikers, the Graham bill would require persons objecting to tax charges to pay at least 75 per cent of their assessments before filing formal protests.

Adamowski said it is designed to "get the big fellow" and would permit Chicago to issue more tax permits than warrants so that its employees could be paid.

Blames Reserve Board For Banks Being Kept Shut

Washington, May 9—(AP)—Senator Van Nuys (D. Ind.) told newspapermen today he had described to Secretary Woodin as "outrageous" the "failure" of the Seventh Federal Reserve Board of Chicago to cooperate with the administration and the Treasury in reopening closed banks in Indiana, Michigan, Wisconsin and Iowa.

The Latter Assumes All Blame For Kidnapping M'Math Girl

Barnstable, Mass., May 9—(AP)—Kenneth Buck, alleged kidnaper of Peggy McMath, today exonerated his brother Cyril, also under arrest for the crime, of any part in the abduction.

In a sworn statement made at the Barnstable county jail, where both men are held awaiting a hearing on May 22, Kenneth told Police Chief Edward E. Hall of Harwich that he alone was to blame and responsible for the crime. Hall said Kenneth declared that he could "implicate no other person."

It is the plan to prepare specifications for a 20 foot roadway about 2,000 feet in length extending from the south line of the present Lincoln Highway paving south to the Chicago & NorthWestern tracks in the village of Nachusa. The proposal is for a black top covering of the present macadam and gravel road.

As soon as the plans and specifications are prepared in the office of the County Superintendent of Highways they will be submitted to the State Department of Public Works and Building for approval.

The amount available is not sufficient to provide for the entire improvement but it is proposed that the sum be expended as far as possible toward the improvement project.

MOLINE MAN IS FOUND GUILTY OF GIRL'S DEATH

Rock Island Judge's Sentence For Meyer Is Ninety Years

Rock Island, Ill., May 9—(AP)—Judge Leonard E. Telleken today found Maurice Meyer guilty of the murder of Rose Gendler and sentenced him to serve 90 years in the Joliet state penitentiary.

Judge Telleken heard the case in Rock Island county Circuit Court without a jury and had it under advisement since May 3.

Miss Gendler's body, wrapped in a sack, was found on the ice in Rock river last December. The defense was that the girl had been fatally injured by a fall suffered in Meyer's cleaning plant in Moline, where she had gone to see a picture of Meyer's niece.

Meyer testified that when he failed to revive the girl after the fall he became panic-stricken and fearing he would be charged with the murder, bound and gagged the body, placed it in a sack, and dropped it from a bridge onto the ice.

Later he left a ransom note, demanding $2,000, at the home of the girl's parents, believing this would divert suspicion from his own shoulders.

Physicians, who performed a post mortem on the body of the girl, testified that Miss Gendler was alive when she was thrown from the bridge.

Meyer, who had been examined with a lie detector, disappeared April 12, the date set for his re-appearance for further questioning with the device.

Surrendered Feb. 14

After a flight to the west coast, he surrendered to State's Attorney Francis C. King, on Feb. 14 and was placed under arrest.

In declaring the defendant guilty, Judge Telleken based his findings on the ninth count of a 15-count indictment; others having been stricken.

The ninth count alleged that Meyer inflicted wounds on the head and body from which Miss Gendler languished and died afterwards.

Springfield, Ill., May 9—(AP)—The House committee investigating the brewery industry in Illinois will hold its first meeting at the Chicago city hall Saturday, Chairman G. G. Noonan, Chicago Democrat, announced today.

Wage Increase Announcements Made By Numerous Large Firms Bring Joy To Thousands Today

Chicago, May 9—(AP)—Cheering news came to thousands of American workmen today in the form of wage increase announcements.

One announcement alone—that of E. L. Cord—that employees of the companies he heads are to receive a five per cent increase effective tomorrow affects approximately 10,000 workmen. The companies involved include the Auburn Automobile Company, the Lycoming Manufacturing Company, Dusenberg Inc., and American Airways.

Other announcements:

Ten per cent advances to some 9,000 South Carolina textile mill workers.

A seven per cent increase for employees of the Standard Kid Company of Wilmington, Del.

A ten per cent boost in wages for employees of the J. S. Bachelder & Company brokerage firm, who were with the concern prior to January 1.

At the same time things looked brighter for hog and lamb raisers, whose products forged higher yesterday to new highs for recent weeks in the Chicago markets.

20 PER CENT BOOST

Suffolk, Va., May 9—(AP)—More than 700 employees of the Planters Nut & Chocolate Company here will receive a 20 per cent increase in wages effective Thursday, it is announced by A. Obici, president of the company.

Large porcupines carry as many as 40,000 quills.

"Deacon Entangled" M. E. Chu. Tonight

The Shawger-Lang Sunday school classes of the Methodist church will give a play "The Deacon Entangled" Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock at the church under the direction of Leslie Wadsworth for the benefit of the classes.

The characters in the play are as follows:—

Deacon Penrose Charles Redebaugh

Calvin Spangler Paul Grimes

Rev. Dr. Sophie Harry Hubbell

Betty Baxter William Lang

Mr. Rafferty Lowell Sprout

Mrs. Penrose Delores Redebaugh

Ruth Penrose Bernadine Lang

George Sophie Eleanor Sartorius

Kate Bernice Biggers

Time—The Present.

Act I—At Deacon's Penroses, late afternoon.

Act II—The same. Next morning.

Act III—The same afternoon.

Story of the Play

Everyone supposed that Calvin Spangler was going to study for the ministry, so when he drops in upon his astonished Chicago relatives and turns out to be a slangy hero of the diamond, he gets a varied reception.

Cal is a pitcher de luxe and also a clean-up clouter. In other words, when the game is close and a hit means a run, he is rushed into the bat and usually comes through with a hit.

His first "error" is to fall in love with the minister's daughter. Then, in attempting to show his Uncle, the Deacon, a good time, they are arrested and the Deacon spends the night in a cell. Scandal is imminent—disaster impends—Auntie goes on the war path.

The big day of the crucial game arrives. Nearly everybody's reputation and peace of mind depends upon the outcome. Here it is, in the hair-raising tenth inning, that Cal unlimbers his trusty pitching arm and also delivers the timely punch that saves the day for all concerned. He proves, in the end, that he is a pinch hitter in the affairs of real life as well as upon the diamond.

The ministry's all right. I'm not knocking it as a profession, but you can never see your name in big headlines in that business unless you steal the contribution box or run off with a "airy" in the choir."

Class Meeting Christian Church

The monthly meeting and supper of the Young Men's Sunday School class of the Christian church was held at the church last evening and all present had an enjoyable evening. A baseball team was organized. Entertainment was furnished by Louis Leydig and Richard Newcomb. Louis Leydig was made pianist for the class.

The class also voted to sponsor the play to be given by the Dixon Dramatic Club on the evening of June 5th, in the basement of the church.

Cotton Curtains Are Gray

(Courtesy of the Cotton Textile Institute)

King Cotton comes in via the window to give a summery look to home this year.

New cotton stripes, plaids, checks and fancy woven monotonous make the gayest of new summer curtains. And there is no end to the smartness you can achieve by using these new modern cottons for snappy curtains that are different.

This window has most attractive hangings, made of a new interesting spongy white cotton, with raised stripes of double fine lines of red, blue and white alternating. Little cotton tassels and big cord loops add their chisel to the window dress.

Breakfast for Ashton Woman's Club

Saturday, May 6th, the Ashton Woman's Club held its second May breakfast in Masonic Hall, which was a delightful affair, served by the O. E. S. ladies.

After the breakfast Mrs. Carson Cross in her always charming manner acted as toastmaster.

There were short talks by members on the different departments of the club; a talk on how to tune yourself to do the work—on work the women could, and should do for our country—for the hand that rocks the cradle rules the world. There were several musical numbers and Mrs. Losey, president of the club, gave a report of the convention held at Rochelle May 4 and 5.

Mrs. L. N. Deutsch of Dixon was present and gave a most interesting talk.

Forty-five ladies attended this delightful meeting.

The poem was written and read by one of the members:

Delightful Scout Supper at Reynoldswood Last Evening

The Girl Scout Council members delightedly entertained the Girl Scout leaders and the Troop committed members at a supper at the lodge at Reynoldswood last evening.

There were forty-five in attendance and all greatly enjoyed the appetizing supper and the short but enjoyable program.

The tables were gay with wild flowers and supper was enjoyed in the glow of many candles.

A feature of the happy affair was the interesting talk given by Mrs. C. A. Hosper who recently returned from abroad with her husband, Dr. C. A. Hosper. Mrs. Hosper reviewed some of her experiences and travels, and gave great pleasure to all who were present.

Sara Losey took the chair; Served us with minutest care. Officers, committees all Talents real thereon did call.

Golden Wedding For Geo. Bramers

The golden anniversary of their wedding was celebrated Wednesday, May 3rd, by Mr. and Mrs. George Bramer at the family home at Ohio. The immediate relatives of the couple were present in observance of the memorable occasion. Mr. Bramer is 76 years old and his wife Ida, 69 years. They were married in Princeton on May 3, 1883, and have lived in Bureau and Lee counties all their married life.

The home was prettily decorated in gold and white for the celebration and a large basket of yellow roses, a gift from the children and the grandchildren. A three course, beautifully appointed dinner was served, followed by a program of singing and readings, also letters and poems read from the absent, a you pack them away. There are now many liquids, sprays and moth balls which can be used to make assurance doubly sure. Woolen clothes, sweaters, woolen underwear and all those things that are particularly appetizing to moths should be sprayed before packing away.

MAKING INSERT: Cut opening in back of glove about 2 1/2 x 1 inch, or cut just inside of ridges of cross.

Your drapes, rugs, upholstering and pillows also should be cleaned thoroughly and moth-proofed.

When it comes to packing away, don't trust the best cedar chest or cedar closet. You are apt to open them someday and not close them immediately and in may drag a moth or two, and the bad deed is done.

Newspapers make a good covering for woolens. But they must entirely cover your things, which means several layers of papers, carefully tied securely around things. You can get moth-proofed bags to hang your clothes in; you can get all kinds of boxes and cartons which have a moth-proof quality.

Spring is the time to guard against moth destruction. So see to it that everything you put away is scrupulously clean, thoroughly moth-proofed and then packed away in a moth-proof container.

Meeting Hillside Community Club

The Hillside Community Club met Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Mon and family, north of Franklin Grove. A large crowd being present. The meeting was called to order by the president of the club, followed by minutes of the last meeting. A few important matters of business were discussed after which the meeting was turned over to the program committee, which was composed of Mrs. Florence Meyers, Mrs. Edna Mielke and Clarence Miller, who had arranged a lovely program which follows:

Song, "Lead Kindly Light." Reading—Mrs. Inez Fisher. Jokes by various members.

After the program the evening was spent playing "school." Mrs. Florence Meyers being the teacher. Pupils which took park depicted 1st, 2nd and 3rd grade students, and were well trained for their parts.

The superintendent, Ernest Fein, and directors, Mrs. Marcy Spratt, Emil Mielke and Lewis Meyers, visited the school, they all gave a short talk. The superintendent gave a very encouraging talk to the pupils and their teacher, finding the school very much up to date. The rest of the evening was spent in a social manner, after which all enjoyed ice cream and cake. Those for the month of June were Misses Anna Sanders, Mrs. Alma Fair and Lee Mon. All departed at a late hour, thanking the Mon family for the good time enjoyed by all. The next meeting will be held at the Arthur Hawkins home, June 2nd.

AMERICA'S NAVAL STRENGTH

While the administration looks forward to an extensive disarmament agreement with foreign nations this summer, the general board of the navy issues a report declaring that "the growing inferiority of the American navy is a matter of serious concern" and urging the immediate construction of 43 warships.

Thus once again we find ourselves in one of those peculiar situations where the necessities of the moment seem to urge two diametrically opposite courses of action upon us.

That there is a very strong and widespread desire in this country for armament reduction is beyond argument. There is also, however, equally widespread, an uneasy feeling that in the present state of things it is the part of wisdom to keep our powder dry and our boxing gloves handy, just in case somebody starts something; and how these two feelings are to be reconciled is perplexing.

As the navy's general board points out, a navy's strength is relative. You can't figure it unless you assess the strength of the navies maintained by other nations. And it is the board's conclusion that in every class of ship except battleships our navy is inferior to the navies of England and Japan.

To remedy this, the board urges the construction this year of two aircraft carriers, seven six-inch gun cruisers, 24 destroyers, nine submarines and one eight-inch gun cruiser.

On the face of things, the argument is sound enough. The chief objection seems to be that the present is hardly the proper time for a program of that magnitude.

To begin with, federal finances right now are hardly in shape to stand the enormous costs involved.

In addition, we are right on the eve of a great international conference which is expected to produce further disarmament, and any large-scale building program might well await the conclusion of that conference.

Sooner or later we shall have to decide definitely whether or not we intend to maintain our navy at full treaty strength. But we don't need to make that decision right now.

OUR DEBT BURDEN

Figures on the national debt issued by the Twentieth Century Fund, which is headed by Edward A. Filene of Boston, show in a striking way the enormous burden which the nation is trying to carry out of the depression.

Long term indebtedness in the United States today, according to these figures, amounts to 40 per cent of the national wealth, requires 20 per cent of the national income and is one of the major obstacles to economic recovery.

Corporations, government agencies and individuals share in a long term indebtedness of $134,000,000,000, as compared with $75,000,000,000 in 1921.

Looking at those figures, it is not hard to understand why such a strong demand for inflation has arisen during the last few months.

SENATOR NORRIS' VICTORY

Senator George W. Norris of Nebraska ought to be one of the proudest men in Washington these days.

The Muscle Shoals bill will be law within a very few days. The Senate and the House still have a few minor points to straighten out before they can send it to the White House, but its ultimate passage is assured, and it is equally certain that the president will sign it.

And the victory, more than anyone else's, is Senator Norris's.

The bill itself may be a very fine thing or it may be profoundly unwise; that, for the amount, is not the point. The point is that it was Senator Norris who kept the Shoals property intact, in Uncle Sam's hands, for long years, in the face of powerful opposition, and that it was Senator Norris who created a public sentiment favorable to government operation.

PURE FOOD AND DRUGS

A dispatch from Washington says that revisions of the federal food and drug law to provide a way of penalizing advertisers who mislead consumers is being seriously considered by administration leaders.

A number of people have pointed out that the existing law contains a number of loopholes. An unscrupulous manufacturer can take advantage of these to deceive the public very seriously.

And it is not only the public that needs protection; it is the reputable manufacturer and the reputable advertiser, as well. Most firms doing business under the food and drug law do not need to be restrained. They suffer as much as does the consuming public from the fact that a conscienceless few take advantage of the law's weakness.

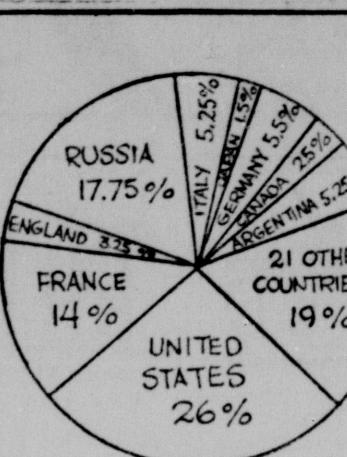

I tell the farmers to stop raising so many hogs and so much cotton and start raising hell.—Delegate Tom Rickard of Oklahoma, at National Farm Holiday Association meeting.

History shows that a great revival in spiritualism has always followed previous depressions and great disasters.—Victor Helperin, movie director.

MONEY—FROM THE STONE AGE TILL NOW

Meanwhile millions in property values were being daily destroyed, millions of men were withdrawn from productive labor. The supply of commodities grew less and less, while more and more money was issued. Thus prices rose, or money fell in value, whichever way you choose to put it.

"Normal" distribution of gold as in 1913. During the World War and afterward this relationship was overthrown and certain nations had no gold, with the normal ways of getting it through trade barred to them by reparations and post-war trade restrictions.

Prices could be artificially restricted within each country. But neutrals had no illusions. They wanted none of the belligerents' currencies, but demanded gold for their goods. Gradually Germany, and to a less extent other belligerents, lost their gold; its distribution became abnormal.

Everyday Religion

THE SEAMY SIDE

By Dr. Joseph Ford Newton

Old Podsnap, in the Dickens story, would not look at the ugly side of life. "I don't want to know about it," he said; "I don't choose to discuss it, I don't admit it." Whereupon, by a wave of his arm he swept it all away out of sight and out of mind. Then along comes a man who calls himself a Realist and protests:

"Why be a sentimental? Let us face the facts. There are other things than beautiful ones, and we must not shut our eyes to them. There are snakes as well as sunsets, vermin as well as violets, lepers as well as lilies, weeping as well as singing. Dark and bitter and ugly things do exist, and we must consider them too."

Of course the Realist is right; we must not ignore any of the facts of life if we are to be honest. But nowadays the darker side of life gets more than its share of attention. The ugly, the sordid, the hateful are thrust before our eyes at every turn. So far from there being any fear of our forgetting them, the danger is the other way about.

Look at human nature as it is portrayed in modern fiction. One may read novel after novel and not find one noble thought, one exalting ideal, one splendid principle, nothing but the low, the base, the nasty, the nauseous, until one is stifted by the stench of it. Admit that it is all true, it cannot be the whole truth, else society would rot.

Take a play like "The Dangerous Corner." By accident, so to speak, a group of refined folk drop their reserve and reveal the "truth" (Copyright, 1933, by United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

about themselves. It is ghastly, putrid, sickening—no wonder one man goes off the stage and blows his brains out! Here is a total depravity such as the old theologians did not even dream of!

Today we believe in the bad, except the bad, look for the bad. It is not realism; it is cynicism. There is more love than hate in the world, more purity than lust, more honor than dishonor. If we are to see life steadily and see it whole, we must look for beauty in life, and not always at its seamy side with the stiches all awry.

Daily Health Talk

COLON BACILLUS INFECTION

The colon bacillus is normally a harmless inhabitant of the bowel, but occasionally spreads beyond this region and becomes the producer of disease. One of the regions where the colon bacillus is most commonly to be found playing the role of the villain is the urinary tract.

Colon infections of the urinary tract are fairly common in children. This condition, called pyelitis, sometimes affects infants only a few weeks old.

It is more common, however, in the older age groups, increasing in prevalence up to the eighth year of age.

At first boys and girls are about equally affected, but after the age of one year, the preponderance of girl patients gradually increases. Pyelitis is not uncommon among adults.

The condition may appear either in an acute, sub-acute or chronic form. When developed acutely, the patient may suffer rigor of stiffness, convulsions, high fever and general constitutional disturbances.

The symptoms may be so serious as to suggest pneumonia, meningitis or typhoid fever.

In older children the symptoms tend to be more localized. There is tenderness in the loin and frequency or difficulty in urination.

In the acute stages, the child may, in addition to the afore-mentioned symptoms, suffer vomiting, abdominal discomfort, vague pains, fever and an increased respiration rate.

In the sub-acute forms of colon bacillus infections of the urinary tract, the child may have recurrent attacks of fever and vomiting.

Chronic pyelitis cases usually show slight signs of general upset, with perhaps slight fever, nervousness, lack of appetite and general weakness.

The treatment of pyelitis includes medicaments given the sufferer in an attempt to alter the chemical reaction of the urine, rest in bed, and large quantities of fluid to flush the urinary system.

THE LURE OF SPEED

Don't scream at your taxicab driver when he takes a corner on two wheels—or goes roaring thru a needle-head opening between two 10-ton trucks—maybe the guy is just trying to train himself for that 500-mile race at Indianapolis. The lure of speed calls them from all walks—or should I say rides?—of life to the big brick oval—this year Paul Butler, who has clicked his tax through Indianapolis streets, dreaming of the day when he could "tool the old bus" against the country's racing champions, will have his hands on the wheel—or a car entered by his wife, Jean.

THE SUBSTITUTE

There was romance in the 1926 race—that was the year Peter A. Kreis, wealthy young daredevil was to drive, and was considered one of the favorites. Just before the qualifying rounds influenza overtook him. He was too sick to be taken to the track on Memorial Day—even in an ambulance. A young exercise boy was given the mount on Kreis' fire-breathing streak—the boy won the race—the name of the lad went on to become immortal—Frank Lockhart—one of the few men ever to drive over 200 miles an hour, and who died trying to beat it.

WESTERN CLUBS PACK POWER OF NATIONAL LOOP

Have Margin In Games Played In Strong Holds Of East

By HERBERT W. BARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The evidence is just about conclusive now that once more the western clubs pack most of the power in the National League.

In the first 24 games of the campaign's initial east-west series, the invaders from beyond the Alleghenies have gained a 2-1 edge—16 victories against eight defeats—and this in the east's own strongholds.

The west checked in with two more triumphs yesterday as the league leading Pittsburgh Pirates blanked the Boston Braves behind Larry French's great pitching and the St. Louis Cardinals took the home run route in overcoming stubborn resistance from the New York Giants. The Pirates and Cards together have accounted for nine victories in 11 starts in the east.

French held the Braves to three singles while the Pirates, giving new evidence that they have overcome the southpaw jinx that handicapped them last year, walloped Tom Zachary for nine hits, five of them doubles, to win 3-0. It was the sixth time the Bucs had beaten a left-hander this year and only one, Bill Hallahan of the Cards, has gained a decision over them. Doubles by Floyd Vaughan and Tony Piet in the fifth, and by Paul Waner and Vaughan in the eighth scored the first two runs. The third came in the ninth when Schumrich muffed French's fly and Lloyd Waner and Fred Lindstrom followed with singles.

Won On Three Hits

The Cardinals made only three hits off Fred Fitzsimmons but they beat the Giants, 4-3, on home runs by Joe Medwick and Frankie Frisch. Medwick's came with the bases empty in the second, but there were two aboard when Frisch connected in the eighth. As it turned out both were needed for Rex Carleton was driven from the box in the last of the eighth after Sam Leslie had clouted a homer over two on. Sylvester Johnson and Dizzy Dean finished but Carleton received credit for his fourth successive victory. It was Fitzsimmons' initial defeat after four triumphs.

Rain and cold weather forced the postponement of the other two games in the National League and only two were played in the American.

In one, Don Brennan pitched the New York Yankees to a 7-3 triumph over the Chicago White Sox. Ted Lyons, veteran pale horse right hander, collected a pair of doubles and a single, but walked six men, uncorked two wild pitches, and was dubbed for 12 hits. The Sox got 10 off Brennan, but the big rookie tightened up in the pinches.

The Washington Senators staggered to a 10-8 victory over the Browns at St. Louis when Bob Boken, substitute second baseman, clouted a Homer with Fred Schulte on the paths in the twelfth. Six pitchers allowed a total of 35 hits, five of which went to Luke Sewell, Senator backshop.

Yesterday's Stars

Larry French, Pirates—Blanked Braves, 3-0, with three singles.

Bob Boken, Senators—Clouted a Homer with one on in 12th to beat Browns.

Joe Medwick and Frank Frisch, Cardinals—Their homers drove in all runs in 4-3 victory over the Giants.

Don Brennan, Yankees—Searched White Sox ten hits to win third successive victory.

PROSPECTS FOR TARIFF TRUCES ARE BRIGHTENED

MacDonald Tells House Of Commons Truce May Be Effected

London, May 9.—(AP)—Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald announced in the House of Commons today that there was every prospect of reaching an agreement between Britain and the United States as to the advisability of an immediate tariff truce.

"There have been further exchanges of views with the United States government," the Prime Minister said, "and I am now in position to say that, subject to settlement of the actual words and while protecting the essential positions of both governments, there is every prospect of reaching an agreement between them as to the advisability of an immediate tariff truce."

MacDonald said the truce would not prevent continuation of work which Britain now had begun or announcements already made in the House.

This reference to work before the Commons evidently was an allusion to British negotiations recently made or announced as pending.

The Prime Minister also touched on the war debt issue, saying that our aim must be a permanent settlement."

Face "Awkward Hurdle"

He declared that June 15, the due date on the next installment, would be an awkward hurdle.

"But a quiet survey of the possibilities is required in the meantime," he continued, "and nothing ought to be said here which would so increase the difficulties as to make the hurdle impossible to clear."

There was complete union of opinion when he was at Washington, MacDonald said, that the world economic conference starting June 12 could not be wholly successful unless the debt difficulty had been removed before the conference ended.

It never had been contemplated, he told the House, that the war debts should come before the conference itself. Debt negotiations would have to proceed concurrently and on parallel lines by another body of men, he explained.

U. S. Will Help

In connection with disarming the Prime Minister announced that the United States government was prepared to play a further part in tranquilizing Europe, "by agreeing if the disarming conference comes to anything like a satisfactory issue to take part in consultative pacts, the effect of which would be to increase the security of Europe and the safety of threatened nations against war. That is a very considerable achievement."

Former Secretary of State Stimson began this work, the Prime Minister continued, and the present United States government is prepared to go further and make its declaration definite and authoritative.

An announcement will be made in Washington in due time when the matter has been further considered and the details worked out, MacDonald informed the House.

Ultimate confiscation of real estate and complete breakdown of government, or reasonable distribution of the tax burden based on ability to pay and maintenance of government are the two courses open to the people of Illinois. The state is gradually drifting down the former course because of the powerful influence of selfish interests who oppose any change in the state's unfair and antiquated taxing system.

I am sure you will feel that it has paid you to keep your flock in good condition and laying well because you are in a position to take advantage of a better price just as soon as it materializes. You won't have to lose several months getting your flock into production.

The Association is proposing several measures which impose moderate and equitable taxes on those who are now largely escaping rightful payments they should make toward the support of local and state government," said Mr. Smith. "We should lighten the burden resting on the oppressed property taxpayer by replacing part of his load with revenue from other sources.

And the right care means cooling them quickly and marketing them as soon as possible after they are laid. Remember that the temperature of a new-laid egg is over 100 degrees F. and that it loses freshness rapidly at any temperature above 68 degrees. That is why it is so important to cool them quickly. You want to get the animal heat out of them just as you would out of freshly killed meat.

I hope you are taking care of your eggs this way. Sincerely yours, W. F. Priebe, 110 N. Franklin, Chicago, Illinois.

LANARK JUDGING
TEAM NOSED OUT
DIXON ENTRANTSSectional Contest Is Held
At Rock River Farms
On Friday

By virtue of victory in the sectional judging contest of high schools held at the Rock River farms at Byron Friday, the Lanark team of boys will participate in the state vocational judging contest at the University of Illinois next month.

Although Dixon high school's agricultural team won first place in the fat stock and dairy judging contest, the Lanark team's total points, including the poultry and grain judging contest of last winter, were 23 greater than Dixon's. Lanark was first in the poultry and grain division, and second in the fat stock and dairy section.

Individual honors in Friday's contest went to two Polo boys—Lloyd Sommers getting the highest score in fat stock judging and Robert Jones being first in the dairy cattle judging.

The contest was held in a cold rain, being in charge of high school agricultural teachers. Prof. W. E. Carroll of the University of Illinois scored the boys' work in the draft horse, pig, sheep and beef cattle divisions. Ray Nelson of DeKalb scored the dairy cattle contest.

Individual Scores

Individual high scores in Friday's contest were as follows:

Fat stock judging—First, Lloyd Sommers, Polo, 268; second, Henry Livengood, Milledgeville, 263; third, A. Gauldrup, Rock Falls, 260; fourth, M. Brashaw, Stockton, 258; fifth, R. Countryman, Rock Falls, 252; sixth, L. Hicks Dakota, 243; seventh, R. Fehr Dakota, 242.

Dairy judging—First Robert Jones, Polo, 271; second, Derald Barger, Leaf River, 258; third, Derald Anderson, Lanark, 257; fourth, Albert Champion, Lanark, 242; fifth, Mason Deets, Lanark, 234; sixth, John Pierce, Rockville, 232; seventh, H. Miller, Amboy, 231; eighth, D. Miller, Dixon, 231.

Following are the scores made by the competing high schools. The figure in the middle column is the score in Friday's contest, the left figure is the score made in last winter's grain and poultry contest, and the figure to the right is the total score.
